Introduction to Best Practice Guide

The Delaware Claims Processing Facility has created this simple to use guide to help your firm perform some of the functions in an easy and detailed instructional format. With this reference document in hand, you'll be able to submit a claim and the supporting documents in its entirety.

What is covered in this manual?

We have compiled some of the most useful information from all the feedback we have received from law firms around the country that currently use Trust Online. Our focus for this guide is to help you submit the most complete and accurate claim that you can, including but not limited to submitting supporting documents, understanding claim submission warnings and responding to deficiencies.

Useful Tools and Indexes

We have also provided some useful tips, hints and troubleshooting help. For definitions of status, queues or other terms used by the Trust see the appendix located at the back of this guide.

Electronic Document Submissions

Trust Online offers:

1. Two methods of electronically submitting supporting
 - o medical;
 - o exposure; and
 - o legal documents.
2. The option of
 - o uploading; or
 - o faxing documents.

Supporting documents that need to be submitted with the claim form can consist of medical, exposure and legal documentation.

- Medical documents consist primarily of Physical Exam, Chest x-ray, Pulmonary Function Test, B-Reader, CT-Scan and Pathology reports.
- Exposure documents consist primarily of Exposure Affidavits, Social Security Records, Work Histories and Economic reports.
 - o Economic reports can consist of W-2's, IRS Form 1040 or other relevant supporting economic documentation.
- Legal documents consist primarily of Death Certificate, Certificate of Official Capacity, and litigation documentation.

Uploading documents was designed primarily for firms that have the capability to scan and store their documents electronically. Currently, Trust Online accepts uploaded documents in 167 different file formats. Trust Online has provided the firms with a spreadsheet listing all of the types of documents that can be uploaded. To view or download a copy of this file, simply go to the Downloads page located under the Resources link on www.usgasbestostrust.com.

Faxing documents was designed primarily for firms who prefer to store their documents in a paper format. Trust Online accepts electronic submission of documents using a fax cover sheet. Firms may create multiple fax cover sheets, attach them to their respective documents and fax them all at once. Using this technique allows firms to submit multiple documents for multiple claims. The Electronic Bar Code on each fax cover sheet ensures that the faxed documents are attached to their respective claims.

Uploading Documents with New Claim Submission

- After entering all of the claim information, select the tab labeled Documents located on the left menu bar of the claim:

Uploading Documents to Existing Claims

Find the Claim

- From the Summary page, click on the Claim Search link on the top menu bar:

- On the Claim Search page, enter the claim criteria and click on the <Search> button.

The screenshot shows a 'Claim Search' form. It has a title bar with a right-pointing arrow and the text 'Claim Search'. The form contains several input fields and dropdown menus: 'Last Name' (text input), 'Claim Number' (text input), 'SSN' (text input), 'Firm File Number' (text input), 'Deficiency Count' (dropdown menu with 'All' selected), and 'Pending Paperwork' (dropdown menu).

- From the Search grid, click on the Claimants name to open the individual summary page. (note – The claim will open in a new window and each subsequent click on the claimant's name will open another new window)

Name	SSN	Trust	Attorney	Status
King, Jack	123456789	USG	Smith	Intake Deficient

- Maximize new window (if necessary) to view entire claim summary page.

Tips to Resolve Common Web-related Issues

Login and Account Access

I've tried to login several times and I'm getting the "Login Failed" error message. Why am I getting this message?

- Trust Online incorporates Automatic Disabling as a security feature. After 3 consecutive unsuccessful attempts to login, the system will automatically disable your account. This feature is provided to prevent unauthorized personnel from accessing your secured account.

If my account has become disabled, whom should I contact to re-enable my account?

- For Staff and Attorney accounts, you should contact your Firm Administrator. Trust Online is designed to allow only the Firm Administrator access to the firm's user accounts. This Individual is responsible for creating new accounts, enable/disabling accounts and resetting passwords on these accounts.

I received an error message stating "Please request access to one or more Trusts from your administrator" after attempting to login to Trust Online. What does this mean?

- When your account was created, the Firm Administrator failed to assign the account access to one or more of the Trusts. To correct this issue, contact your Firm Administrator to assign access to one or more of the Trust using Manage Access.

After finally logging into Trust Online, I went to the Claim Search and can't find any of our firm's claims. What can I do about this?

- It is possible the Firm Administrator failed to assign attorney access to your staff account. On the Claim Search page, check to see if there are any attorneys listed in the Attorney list box. If there isn't, have your Firm Administrator give you access to the desired attorney(s).

Filing a Claim

I started filing a claim, but realized that I was missing some information to submit a complete claim. Is there a way to save this information without submitting it?

- Trust Online offers firms the option of saving this information as a draft. Simply proceed to the finish page and click on <Save Draft>.

I saved a claim as a draft, but realized that we had already submitted this claim. How can I delete the draft?

- You can delete a draft claim if you choose not to submit it. After searching for the draft claim and opening the claim in a new window, click on <Claim Form>, <Edit>, <Finish> and <Cancel>. This will remove the draft claim from Trust Online.

I saved a claim as a draft and want to edit the claim without submitting it. How do I proceed?

- After finding your claim on the Claim Search page, proceed to edit the claim as you would with a submitted claim. When editing a Draft claim, the user should be careful not to delete the claim. If the user has edited the draft claim, but wishes to discard these changes, he should not proceed to the Finish page and click <Cancel>, since this will delete the claim, but they should first remove the changes manually and save the claim as a draft once again.

On the Finish page, I received the warning "Deceased and DeathDate are inconsistent". How can I correct this?

- Trust Online currently defaults all new claims as deceased. To correct this, simply click on the Injured Party tab on the left menu bar and review questions 5 & 6. Edit the questions to reflect the correct status of the Injured Party.

I'm trying to create a fax cover sheet, but when I click <Print Cover Sheet> nothing happens. What am I doing wrong?

- Your browser may have a pop-up blocker which would prevent some of the windows on Trust Online from being opened. You should first disable your pop-up blocker or allow pop-ups from Trust Online.

How do I disable my pop-up blocker?

- Point to Pop-up Blocker from the Tools menu and select Turn Off Pop-up Blocker

How do I allow pop-ups from Trust Online?

- To allow pop-ups from Trust Online:
 - a. Select Internet Options from the Tools menu.
 - b. From the Privacy tab, click Settings.
 - c. Type trustonline.delawarecpf.com in the Address of website to allow: and click Add

- Awaiting Document Tank – On new claim submissions that are awaiting the arrival of documents are placed in this queue.

Document Terms, Icons and Usage

- Document ID – The Document ID identifies a specific document record. This ID is created whenever a fax cover sheet is created or a document is uploaded. Once the document has been received by Trust Online, the Document ID will be displayed in a red font. To view the document, click on the Document ID. You may only view documents that have a received date.
- Document Type – The Document Type identifies a document record that was created by either faxing a cover sheet or uploading documents to Trust Online.
- Comment – The Comment field is primarily for notes associated with the document record. This field should be used by the Trust and the law firm to differentiate between documents of the same type.
- Received – The Received field tracks the date that the document was received by the Trust. Once the Received field is populated with the date, then firm users can view the documents by clicking on the Document ID.
- Edited By – This field tracks the last user that edited the existing document record.
- Edited – This field tracks the date in which the document record was last edited.
- Created By – This field tracks the user that originally created the document record.
- Created – This field tracks the date that the document record was originally created.
